Q Quick Review

To subtract two-digit numbers, line them up so ones are under ones and tens under tens. Start with the ones column. If the top ones digit is too small to subtract, you must regroup — borrow one ten from the tens column, which adds 10 to the ones. Then subtract the ones, and finally subtract the tens. You can always check your answer by adding it back to the number you subtracted.

◇ Example: Find the difference: $63 - 28$.

⇒ Look at the ones column first: we cannot take 8 from 3, so we regroup. Borrow 1 ten from the 6 tens, leaving 5 tens, and add 10 to the ones to make 13. Now subtract the ones: $13 - 8 = 5$. Then subtract the tens: $5 - 2 = 3$. So $63 - 28 = 35$.

Answer: $63 - 28 = 35$
