Quick Review

Even good readers make mistakes. The trick is to NOTICE when something doesn't make sense and try again. Use the rest of the sentence — the CONTEXT — to fix the mistake.

PRACTICE

Read each sentence carefully and choose the BEST answer.

1. A reader reads: “She broke the cup and a little water spilled on the floor.” But the word in the book is cap, not cup. How should the reader fix this?
 - A. Keep reading without looking back.
 - B. Notice that cup makes more sense and go back to re-read.
 - C. Stop reading the whole book.
 - D. Ask a teacher to skip the page.
2. Which CLUE in a sentence helps the most when a reader has the wrong word?
 - A. the size of the print on the page
 - B. the other words around the word and what makes sense
 - C. the page number
 - D. the color of the picture
3. A reader says, “The cat climbed the frog” but the picture and story are about a tree. The reader should —

 - D. skip the page
4. When does a reader MOST NEED to self-correct?

 - D. when the sentence ends with a period

5. A reader reads “The boy jumped into the puddle and got wax.” The word should be wet. What CLUE shows the mistake?

 - C. the sentence has eight words
 - D. the page number is high
6. Which steps would a careful reader do AFTER catching a mistake?
- A. Re-read the sentence and check that it now makes sense.
 - B. Move on quickly without thinking about it.
 - C. Start the book from page 1.
 - D. Underline every word on the page.
7. Read: “She put on her hat and grabbed her met.” Which word would MAKE SENSE in place of met?
- A. mat

8. Why is self-correcting important?
- A. It makes reading take longer no matter what.
 - B. It helps a reader understand the story correctly.
 - C. It makes the book have fewer words.
 - D. It teaches the writer new words.
9. Read: “The dog drank water from his bowl.” If a reader said walter, what should they do?
- A. leave it
 - B. look at the letters again, say water, and re-read
 - C. look up walter in a dictionary
 - D. stop reading the book
10. Write your own short sentence about a kid at school. Then change ONE word to a wrong word and underline it. Explain how a reader could self-correct.

Explanations
1. B	The “water spilled” clue tells you the word should be CUP. Going back fixes the meaning.
2. B	Context — surrounding words — is the main self-correcting tool.
3. B	“Tree” fits the picture and meaning. Self-correct by re-reading.
4. A	Self-correction kicks in when meaning breaks. The others are not signals to correct.
5. A	Meaning clues are the strongest self-correct signal. The others are surface details.
6. A	Always check that the fix makes sense. The other actions don't help.
7. B	If she's putting on a hat, a mitt (glove or baseball mitt) fits. The others don't match “put on” / “grabbed.”
8. B	The point is comprehension. The others are false.
9. B	Fix the word and re-read for meaning.
10.	Answer: Example: Sentence: “The teacher gave us a quiz.” Wrong word: “quit.” A reader could see that “gave us a quit” does not make sense and fix it to QUIZ. Accept any sentence + a logical self-correction strategy.
