Explanations

1. C	The sentence gives a definition clue right after the dash. A reverses up/down (a valley is low, not raised); B describes a path, not the land; D refers to several hills, not a single flat area.
2. A	The word Unlike signals an antonym clue : if Marcus is quiet and calm , then his brother is the opposite — loud and rowdy . B is the same as Marcus, not the opposite; C and D are unrelated traits.
3. B	The list ketchup, mustard, and relish is an example clue ; the category they share is flavor toppings . A is wrong — these are not main dishes; C confuses them with serving items; D mixes them up with kitchen tools.
4. D	The clues sleepless, pale, and dark and tired point to worn out and exhausted in appearance . A and B are opposites; C describes a different feeling (fear) not supported by the sentence.
5. A	Every member finally agreed is a definition/synonym clue for general agreement . B is the opposite; C confuses agreement with rules; D names where agreement might happen, not what it is.
6. C	The clue only one page plus explained the whole problem clearly point to short and to the point . A and B both suggest the opposite; D contradicts clearly .
7. D	The clue could explode at any moment if shaken or warmed defines volatile as easily set off and unstable . A talks about weight; B is the opposite of dangerous; C describes appearance only.
8. B	The clue from dawn until midnight, never pausing tells us incessant means continuing without stopping . A focuses on volume, not duration; C and D give the wrong feeling and miss the timing clue altogether.
9. C	The clue within hours, the next opponent had already beaten them shows the victory lasted only briefly — lasting only a short time . A is the opposite; B and D talk about quality and reaction, not duration.
10. A	The clue toddlers could pet him without fear tells us the puppy is easy to manage and gentle . B is the opposite; C focuses on speed; D is also opposite (a docile animal obeys easily).
