

Connotation and Denotation

Name: _____

Date: _____

Score: _____ / 10

Quick Review

Denotation is a word's exact dictionary meaning. Connotation is the feeling the word adds — positive, neutral, or negative. Two words can share a denotation and still send opposite signals: thrifty / frugal (positive), economical (neutral), cheap / miserly / stingy (negative); determined (positive), stubborn (mildly negative), obstinate (negative); assertive (positive), bossy / aggressive (negative); slim / slender (positive), thin (neutral), skinny / scrawny (negative); look / gaze (positive), stare (neutral), gawk (negative); young / youthful (positive), childish / immature (negative). Pick the connotation that matches the writer's tone — praise, criticism, or neutral report.

Explanations

1. D	Crowd is neutral-to-positive for a large group — it fits Marisol's warm and hopeful tone. A mob is large AND uncontrolled, with a negative connotation (riots, anger). B gang suggests criminality. C horde suggests a threatening or invading group. All four denote a large group of people , but only D fits the warm tone.
2. B	Miserly means refusing to spend even when it would help others — clearly negative, the spending equivalent of cruel. A thrifty is positive (careful with money). C frugal is positive (sparing, wise). D economical is neutral-to-positive (efficient use of resources). All four share the denotation not spending freely , but they span the full positive-negative scale.
3. C	Gathered is neutral and fair — the right tone for impartial news. A rioted implies violence and contradicts peacefully . B swarmed compares people to insects, a negative image. D stormed suggests forceful, angry action. Only C matches the literal facts AND the neutral tone.
4. A	Inquisitive connotes intellectually curious — praise for a student's engagement. B nosy connotes prying into others' business (negative). C pestering connotes annoying repeated bother (negative). D meddlesome connotes interfering where one shouldn't (negative). All four denote asking many questions but only A casts the behavior in a praising light.
5. C	Determined is positive — it suggests focused, admirable drive. A obstinate connotes refusing to listen (negative). B stubborn is mildly negative (refusing to change). D pigheaded is strongly negative (foolishly inflexible). All four share the denotation not giving up , but only C is praise.
6. B	Chattered connotes quick, nonstop, light talk — mildly negative, suggesting Mateo found it tiring. A discussed is formal and neutral. C spoke and D talked are also neutral. All four denote used words , but only B carries the edge of annoyance that fits a long car ride.
7. D	D uses loud (often negative for performance) and weird (negative for unusual) — criticism in disguise. A, B, and C describe the same qualities with positive synonyms ( bold, confident, original, inventive, unique, daring ). Same facts, opposite tone — the connotation does the work.
8. A	Youthful is positive — it suggests fresh, lively energy. B childish is negative when used for energy (silly, immature). C immature is openly negative (not grown up enough). D infantile is the strongest criticism (acting like a baby). All four denote young , but only A casts the children positively.

9.	Answer: (a) Assertive has a positive connotation &mdash; it suggests confident, clear, respectful expression of one's views. (b) A more critical near-synonym is bossy (or aggressive , pushy ); a positive near-synonym is confident or self-possessed . (c) Calling Ms. Park assertive or confident makes the reader admire her leadership, while calling her bossy or aggressive makes the reader see her as rude &mdash; even though all the words describe the same behavior.
10.	Answer: (a) Sentence 1 praises the reporter; sentence 2 criticizes the reporter. (b) Determined (positive: strong-willed, focused) vs. pushy (negative: rudely aggressive). Pressed (neutral-to-positive: applied steady pressure to get answers) vs. badgered (negative: nagged or harassed repeatedly). The denotations overlap, but the connotations push the reader toward opposite judgments.
